Chapter 41 Update

Shaping the Future of Your Chapter

Don A. Corrigan
President

I am looking forward to our September meeting and the use of technology. There will be information sent in the future on how you can join us without being there for the excellent training session I know Ed Opstein will be providing on the subject of negotiations.

We will also be selecting our 2010 Professional of the Year. If you know someone whose contributions have made our chapter better, please nominate them. You can either nominate them by sending me a short paragraph on why they deserve the recognition, or nominate them “from the floor” at our meeting.

Speaking of true professionals I am saddened that Jim Diemer has chosen to resign as Chair of the Program Committee and with his retirement will be taking a smaller role in the chapter. Jim is going to spend more time with his grandchildren, fishing and kicking back. Jim has provided leadership and time to the chapter and his efforts will be missed.

Jim isn't going to be alone as many of we older members retire and pursue other interests. It is time for the newer and younger members to step up and help shape the future of the chapter. The look and needs of the chapter will change as the industries that provide our members change, and there will be a need to adapt to those changes. Our election of officers will be coming up after the first of the year and I urge all of you to consider “putting your hat in the ring”.

Liz Van Zomeren has agreed to take Jim's place as Chair of the Program Committee. This can be a difficult position so if you want to become a Co-Chair or simply serve on the committee please let me know. I know there are members out there with great ideas, and perhaps those who feel their needs haven't been addressed. I challenge you to step forward and get involved in this committee.

See You in September. If you have never heard that song or don't understand the reference you are the future of Chapter 41.

Don

IRWA's Professional Career Path Unveiled

Joe A. Anderson

Professional Development Committee Chair

The idea for revamping IRWA's designation and certification programs was hatched during an education summit in 2005. The concept gained momentum during a task force meeting that followed in 2007. Finally, at the 2010 International Education Conference in Calgary, IRWA officially introduced its new Professional Career Path. The career path, according to IRWA's Chief of Education Valerie Fries Wade, "enables right of way professionals to advance through four levels of qualification, leading ultimately to the SR/WA designation".

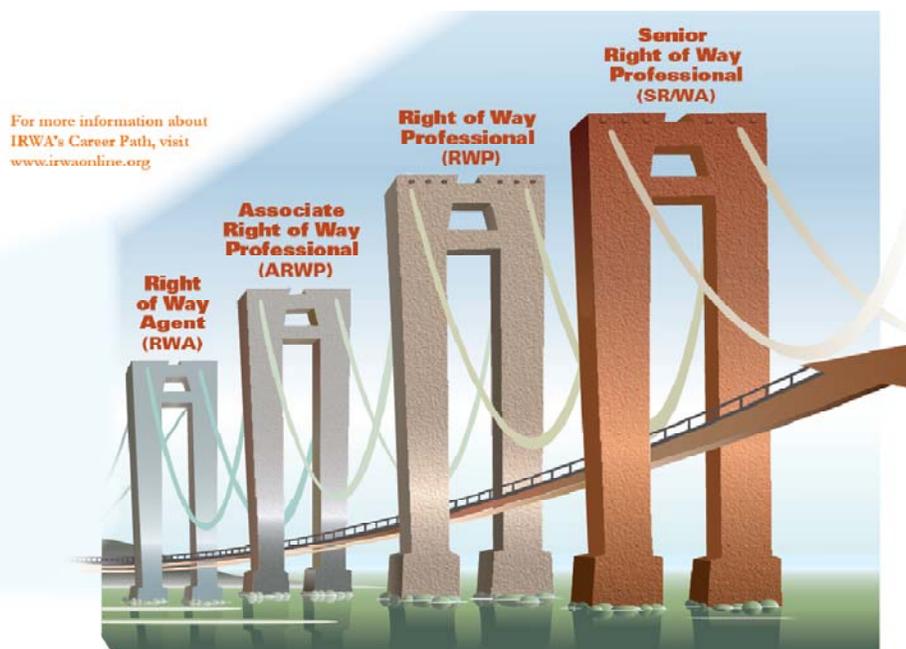

The four levels of the new career path are:

- 1) Right of Way Agent (RWA)
- 2) Associate Right of Way Professional (ARWP)
- 3) Right of Way Professional (RWP)
- 4) Senior Right of Way Professional (SR/WA)

The new career path does not replace IRWA's existing certification program. Instead it provides right of way professionals whose expertise is not discipline specific a way to earn certification at varying stages of their career. Even non-members can participate in the new program.

Along with the new career path comes more rigorous requirements for earning designation and certification through IRWA. The new requirements are summarized in your July/August issue of Right of Way Magazine. If you wish to earn the SR/WA designation or a discipline certification under the old requirements, you must have your candidacy approved before October 1, 2010.

Please contact me (joe.anderson@dot.iowa.gov) as soon as possible if you plan to declare your candidacy before October 1st, or if you have any questions about IRWA's Professional Career Path.
