Chapter 41 Update

Yearn to learn from those around you

Don A. Corrigan
Chapter 41 President

When I began in this profession in the 70's my job had one focus, total takings under urban renewal. Utilities were those poles that got in the way and wind energy consisted of few and far between windmills on farms. The City of Des Moines had two acquisition staffs, one for urban renewal in the Urban Development Department and one for something called right of way in Engineering. Both had about a half dozen staff members.

As Central Relocation Administrator I was occasionally called on to do relocations for the right of way section. Project meetings were different. I had no idea what these things called easements, partial takings and surveys were. Nor did I really care. Then came more projects at the airport, with terms like noise and clear zones. Projects shifted from urban renewal to streets, floods, and airports. Staffs were combined and consultants were hired. I quickly learned that the Uniform Act was not uniform, depending on the federal agency, and that I had to learn all the terms being used by all the players to do my job.

Rambling war story, or glimpse into the future of our profession? Just as the telecom industry has gone from copper wire to fiber optics, we in the right of way profession have to change, to learn, to carry more information and become more flexible. While an informational session on a flood buyout project may not seem to be relevant to those in the utility or roads field, the way the project is structured, and how it is communicated and carried out, has implications and lessons for all right of way activities. How a utility calculates easement payments for a wind farm has implications on future road way easements in the same locale. I have learned that although we have diverse types of projects, many of the basics remain the same and we can always learn something from one another's specialty.

Our next meeting is April 1, in Cedar Rapids, and the educational session will be on utilities. We will be electing officers and appointing directors for the annual conference in Atlanta. If you are interested in running for office, or would like to nominate someone, please contact Mark Holm, Tim Bunkers, or myself. We will also be discussing the annual banquet/meeting to be held in June, auction items for the education fund, and education sessions for upcoming chapter meetings. Please plan to attend.

As one of my last acts as your President I was proud to nominate this newsletter for IRWA newsletter of the year. Way to go Joe.

New Business:

Professional of the Year--Deadwood: It was voted and approved to provide $200.00 from the Chapter to assist Joe in attending the Forum in Deadwood. Congratulations to Joe Anderson, Iowa DOT, who is our Chapter Professional of the Year!

Online Course Incentives: International is sponsoring three contests to encourage online course participation. The contests are judged by a percentage and include the Chapter with the number attending a live course, new members, and the number of people taking online courses. Our Chapter is currently ahead in the contest for number of people taking online courses. The top prize is $1,000 to assist with attending the Forum in Atlanta.

Chapters receive $50 on each online course. As an incentive, the Chapter voted to pass along this $50 to members who sign up to take an online course before April 1, 2011. You have 180 days to complete the course and you can download the manual after you complete the test. This is a good opportunity to take a required course or a new course...check out the list of options on the website.

50th Anniversary in 2013: We are looking for volunteers to form a committee to help celebrate the Chapter's 50th Anniversary in 2013. Originally our Chapter was formed with Nebraska so we will be contacting the Nebraska Chapter to see if/when they are going to celebrate their Anniversary. It was suggested we should consider having a Chapter Historian. Both Jim Diemer and Joe Anderson already have acquired some interesting memorabilia that would be useful. Please let Don Corrigan know if you would be interested in assisting the Chapter with either the Anniversary event or serving as Chapter Historian.

Installation Banquet, June: Still in the planning stages. Possibly looking for a family-friendly location such as a Cubs game, Prairie Meadows, or Living History Farms. Stay tuned for more details.

Region Forum, Deadwood, South Dakota: The Region Treasurer position is open and Joe Anderson has thrown his hat into the ring. The Chapter fully supports Joe's run for this office—good luck in Deadwood!

It was voted and approved to provide $200 to the President to attend the Forum in Deadwood. It is possible that Don Corrigan will not be available to attend so Joe Anderson was appointed his alternate.

Reminder of Nomination of Officers: The present slate of officers includes: President: Tim Bunkers, President Elect: open, Treasurer: Mark Holm and Secretary: Amy Walter. Please contact Don Corrigan or Tim Bunkers if you would like to know more about the President Elect position or are interested in adding your name to this position.

"Young Professionals" Conference: New members with less than one year ROW experience or are under the age of 30 are invited to attend the conference on March 23 -25 in Las Vegas. There is a scholarship of $200 to assist with registration fees available. Please submit your application to or contact Don Corrigan for more information.

Chapter Drawing: Mary Ann Carnock is the lucky winner of the $50.00 drawing.

It was mentioned that we need to change our Bylaws to update the fees for the Retired members who elect to receive the IRWA magazine.

Donations for Toys for Tots: It was decided that we will no longer "pass the hat" at each meeting and instead ask all members to bring a monetary donation or an unwrapped to the December meeting. If you are unable to attend the December meeting, please mail your monetary donation to the Chapter Treasurer so we can include it with our donation. This is such a worthy cause and we would really appreciate your continued support!

Adjourn: A motion was made and seconded and approved by all to adjourn the meeting.

Respectfully Submitted,
Amy J. Walter
Vice President/Secretary
